

MERGER FORMS A PLASTICS POWERHOUSE

After a 20-year history of working closely together on many projects, Cebelio and BNT Plastics have merged, with BNT moving into Cebelio's premises at 22 Tanner Street, Woolston.

Jason Roberts of Cebelio and Barry Rendell of BNT originally worked at the same plastics company when they were young. At the helm of their own family operated businesses years later, the teams appreciated the knowledge and skills that each brought to combined jobs.

"This led to discussions about working together permanently to form a more balanced plastics company," Jason says.

"Even clients made regular comments suggesting we do so, now we have an even greater team of expertise with a larger range of products and services."

Now one comprehensive plastic supply company, their manufacturing abilities have strengthened. With Jason and Barry having broad experience in the plastics industry in

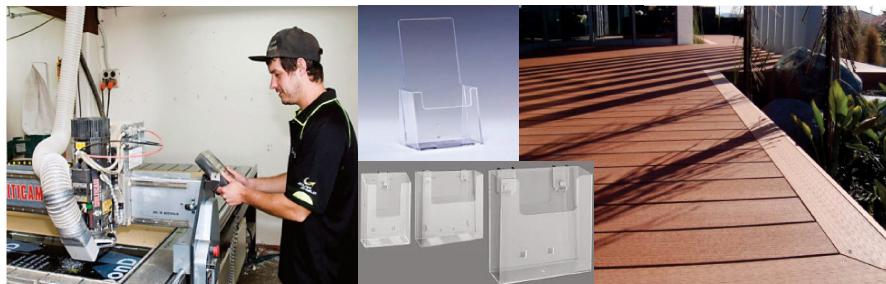

“ WE MAKE WHAT YOU CAN'T BUY ELSEWHERE. ”

NZ, Australia and the UK, their fabrication department can custom-make anything you require from acrylic or polycarbonate: poster holders, dispensing units, menu holders, brochure holders, business card holders, acrylic shop fittings and displays, illuminated lettering, signs and sign covers, point-of-sale displays, bar hoods and slat wall fittings.

"We make what you can't buy elsewhere, taking ideas and turning them into reality for clients that get to deal directly with the craftsmen," says Barry Rendell of BNT.
